PREFACE.

We would call the attention of collectors to the interesting series of Roman coins formed by the late Thomas S. Collier, whose aim had been to assemble a representative coin of each Roman family to which a moneyer had belonged, and of each Emperor and Empress in silver and bronze. And how exceedingly interesting the results of his efforts when we see the collection contains the portrait of every Emperor from Julius Cæsar to the fall of the Empire of the West, in A. D. 585, before the hordes of the rude barbarians of the North, and closes with a coin struck by the terrible Totila, after Justinus had surrendered Italy to him, nominally admitting him as a colleague, indicated by the retention of the type of Justinus on the obverse.

Thomas S. Collier was born in New York City, on November 4, 1842, and during the Civil War served bravely in the U. S. Navy, receiving severe wounds from which he recovered sufficiently to continue in service, but their effects finally compelled his honorable retirement a few years ago. He died after only a few days illness on the 21st of September, leaving a wife to survive him, by whose orders as executrix this sale is held.

Mr. Collier devoted his leisure to literary pursuits and to his collection of coins, of which he was an earnest student.

He produced many charming sonnets and was a contributor to the magazines, The Century, Atlantic, and others.

His collection of United States and modern coins was sold under our direction in 1886.

In this catalogue will also be found a line of historical coins belonging to the above, the good general collection of the late Samuel Badlam, and the fine Numismatic library of Mr. C. T. Whitman, the last we had not time to include in the sale in August.

We guarantee all the coins and medals to be genuine.

Priced catalogues will be supplied at 50 cents, payment required with order.

Bids will be faithfully and carefully executed by the other regular dealers and ourselves.

- 110 84 Hostilia. Head of Gaul r. R. Warrior in biga. Very fine. B. 2. We have never felt satisfied in describing this coin as bearing a head of Pallor or Fear. The long Gaulish shield behind the head is placed there to indicate that it is the head of a Gaul, and we think that the conjecture of Babelon that it is the head of Ver-cingetorix is very probable as it is too characteristic not to be a portrait.

SIAM.

PORCELAIN MONEY.

Circulated about 150 to 50 years ago. Average thickness,  $\frac{3}{16}$  of an inch.

All different. We believe the finest collection yet offered in the United States, and an opportunity that should not be neglected to acquire these curious pieces. The owner disposed of his duplicates in our last sale, March 6—7, 1894, but now has decided to offer his entire series. Sold in last sale from 50 c. to $1.55 each, the higher prices being obtained for the most curious and those of odd shapes and colors, but many here offered are worth $2 to $3 each. As the number will indicate there are some 110 here of which he had no duplicates, and in all our experience many that we have not seen before. Should a starting bid of $100 be made for the entire collection, they will be sold as a whole, if not, then as catalogued.

Round unless otherwise stated. All have characters in blue on rev. unless otherwise stated. Closing No. refers to size, which on odd shapes is the smallest diameter. Perfect.
